Unibet launched its first online website in 1999, launched live betting service in 2003 and introduced mobile site in 2004.[2]

The Kindred Group, and by extension Unibet, is headquartered in Malta.

History [edit]

Unibet was originally founded in 1997 by Anders Ström, with the company initially operating out of Ström's home in Earl's Court, London. It secured a license to operate a betting business and from 1998, Unibet began taking bets over the phone. The following year, Unibet launched their first ever online betting website. It later became Unibet Group PLC, Pontus Lesse was appointed as the new CEO and the company were granted their first international gambling license in Malta. Over the next few years, Unibet Group PLC expanded quickly. Its Unibet website diversified to support 12 different languages and by 2004, the company had over 300,000 registered customers in more than 100 countries. It was also in that year that the company was first listed on the Swedish Stock Exchange.[1]

The following years saw a number of other acquisitions by the company, including most notably those of Betchoice in Australia and of Stan James Online.[5] In order to better support their new multi-brand strategy, Unibet Group Plc became the Kindred Group in 2024.[2] Since that time, the company have passed one million registered customers and launched a range of further betting and gambling brands around the world. In the middle of November 2024, the Kindred Group went live with Unibet in Pennsylvania (PA).[6]

Regulatory sanctions and fines [edit]

On February 16, 2024, the Danish Gambling Authority (DGA) ordered Unibet (Denmark) Limited to update its risk assessment policies. According to the regulator, until 25 January 2024, Unibet did not have "sufficient written business procedures for ongoing monitoring of existing customer relations".[11] A number of breaches were found when inspecting Unibet's AML policies, including breaking the rules relating to business procedures, know your customer (KYC) measures, as well as rules regarding its obligation to investigate and report on players.

At the same time, Norwegian regulator Lottstift warned Trannel International Ltd, a wholly owned subsidiary of Kindred Group, that it would sanction the operator with financial penalties of NOK 1.2 million (€120,000) daily if it did not stop its illegal gambling activity in Norway. Trannel had received similar warnings back in April 2024 and Kindred have already made a number of legal appeals in Norway in response which have all been rejected by Norway's supreme court. Despite the threats of heavy fines Kindred refused to stop operations in Norway.[12]

In August 2024, the Canadian Alcohol and Gaming Commission levied a CAD$48k penalty on Unibet for alleged infractions of the Registrar's Standards for Internet Gaming (the Standards), pertaining to advertising and inducements.[13]

Ralf Rangnick renuncia a dirigir al Bayern Munich y seguirá con la selección de Austria

Ralf Rangnick no será el nuevo entrenador del Bayern Munich la próxima temporada y continuará en su puesto como seleccionador de Austria después del Euro 2024.

Rangnick confirmó la semana pasada que el Bayern se había puesto en contacto con él en su búsqueda de un sucesor de Thomas Tuchel, y los medios alemanes habían informado de que un acuerdo era inminente.

No habrá cambio de entrenador en Austria

"Soy entrenador de la selección de Austria con todo mi corazón", dijo Rangnick en un comunicado de la FA austriaca. "Este cargo me da mucha alegría y estoy decidido a continuar por el camino que hemos comenzado. Quiero dejar claro que esto no es un rechazo al Bayern Munich, sino una decisión por mi equipo y nuestras metas comunes. Estamos completamente centrados en el Euro. Haremos todo lo posible para llegar lejos".

El entrenador de 65 años Rangnick, que ha entrenado al Manchester United y al RB Leipzig, entre otros, parecía estar en la cima de la lista después de que Julian Nagelsmann decidiera quedarse con el equipo nacional alemán.

El Bayern, que había ganado las 11 ligas anteriores, se perdió el trofeo de la Bundesliga esta temporada, ya que el Bayer Leverkusen aseguró su primer título de liga cinco partidos antes del final de la temporada el mes pasado.

El Bayern empató 2-2 en casa contra el Real Madrid en la primera etapa de las semifinales de la Champions League el martes, pero Tuchel se irá al final de la campaña independientemente de la carrera del club en Europa. Austria está en un grupo del Euro 2024 con Francia, Polonia y los Países Bajos.
